OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.
Social and Personal Gossip About Well-Known People.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 26.

After an extended Western trip to Chicago, Milwaukee and to the General's old home in southern Illinois, Mrs. Logan has returned to Washington and the hospitable doors of the Calumet place are again thrown open to her host of friends. This season her house promises to be the scene of many brilliant entertainments. She is never so happy as when surrounded by youth and freshness, and her house will be filled with young guests the entire season. The first to arrive will be the Misses Pullman, of Chicago, and Miss Ayer, of Michigan. This trio of attractive Western girls will make a charming addition to the group of buds that will take Washington by storm. The Misses Pullman have had an unlimited amount of care bestowed upon their education. Mrs. Logan planned their last year's course abroad, where special attention was given to music and languages, as well as sight-seeing. The elder Miss Pullman is like her mother, whose resemblance to Adeline Patti is striking. She is a pianist, as well as being exceedingly clever with the brush. Her sister has marvellously lighted gray eyes with chameleon tints and shifting expression that will play havoc with hearts this winter. Miss Ayer is equally pretty and gifted. She sings charmingly, coquettes with a banjo, and will undoubtedly get the heart-strings of her listeners entangled with the flattering strings of her instrument. Accomplished in the pretty frivolities of society as well as in the solid fundamental elements of social life, this trio of charming girls will make their presence felt.

The gay festivities of the house will be under the supervision of Mrs. Tucker, Mrs. Logan's gifted daughter, who is fond of society and prominent in Army circles. Mrs. Logan is a very busy woman, and, since her return, has been overwhelmed with work. The editing of the Home Magazine consumes most of her time. She conscientiously desires to help every one who is desirous of being helped. In order to accomplish this she has imposed upon herself the task of reading all the manuscript that comes to her. The part of the work is done at home, while she devotes a part of each day to actual duty in her down-town office.

Miss Hattie, youngest daughter of Secretary of State Blaine, will be one of this season's debutantes. Her figure and carriage are superb, and her complexion has the clearness and freshness of a newly blown rose. She has the Blaine nose, but with it she has inherited the Blaine sense, also. She speaks French, German, Italian and Spanish as fluently as her native tongue. Her manner is simply perfect. A lady prominent in society, and one who knows whereof she speaks, says: "Hattie Blaine will have every foreigner in Washington on her string this winter."

Secretary Proctor's family has arrived, and the family circle is now complete in the handsome new house, No. 1701 Massachusetts avenue. Mrs. Proctor has devoted herself so closely to the nursing of her invalid boy that she, herself, is almost an invalid, worn out with constant attendance and anxiety. Her stay here will be brief, as arrangements are being made for a Southern trip early next week, in the hope that the little invalid's health may be restored. Little Redfield Proctor, who is the cause of so much anxiety and devotion on the part of his family, is a bright, handsome boy of 11 years. His little face looks pallid and worn after his long illness, but there is always an expression of happy cheerfulness upon it that gives much encouragement to his devoted parents. During her mother's absence Miss Proctor will be the prominent figure in her father's house, ably assisted by Mrs. Carey, the Secretary's niece, who will be at the house-keeping helm. She is a former resident of Washington, and a great favorite in army circles, of which her husband is an officer. Mrs. Carey is a strikingly pretty woman, with bright, brown eyes, a pink and white skin, that harmonizes well with her prematurely whitening hair.

Miss Kate Field has taken apartments at the Arlington Hotel for the winter. She will be a charming addition to Washington's literary circle. She has the trim and graceful figure of a girl of twenty, and she loves pretty clothes, for which she spends her money freely. She knows what to buy and what she looks well in. She generally designs and superintends the building of her most elaborate toilets. She is exceedingly fond of exercise in the saddle, and when mounted upon her thoroughbred she knows her pretty figure never shows to better advantage. Miss Field is a very busy woman, and she will not be idle, by any means, during her stay here, for it is her purpose to edit a paper which will be known as Kate Field's Washington.

Senator Stewart has prepared the following bills for introduction. A bill to repay to Alexander W. Baldwin certain moneys illegally collected from Judge Baldwin, of Nevada, as income tax; a bill for free coinage of silver and the issuance of coin certificates; a bill to pension William Gardner, a bill to amend the Mineral Land laws; a bill to allow the sale of mineral lands to aliens in Territories; a bill to reimburse citizens of Nevada for expenses in suppressing the Pite Indian War; a bill to erect a public building at Reno, Nev.; a bill to refund certain duties collected from William Ichans, of New York; a bill to erect a public building at Virginia City, Nev.; a bill to place General George Stoneman on the retired list of the army; a bill for co-operative business corporations in the District of Columbia; a bill to open abandoned military reservations in Nevada to homestead entry; a bill to recover certain lands to Ormsby county, Nev., granted by the county for an Indian school.

FOOD FOR LEGISLATORS.

A NUMBER OF IMPORTANT BILLS INTRODUCED IN THE SENATE.

Stewart and Reagan Want Free Coinage of Silver—Cullom's Irrigation Scheme.

Special to the JOURNAL.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The first bill introduced in the Senate came from Senator George and was aimed at trusts. It is identical with the anti-trust bill reported by him last year from the Committee on Finance. It declares that all trusts are unlawful, and gives persons the power to recover in the courts whenever articles are advanced in value by combinations, and declares that officers of trusts are guilty of misdemeanor.

Five hundred and five bills were introduced during the day, among them a bill by Cockrell, favoring one-cent letter postage.

By Sherman—Making and altering regulations as to time, places and manner of electing Representatives to Congress.

By Ransom—For free coinage of silver; to repeal the Act for the sale of bonds; to redeem legal tender notes.

By Dawes—Extending the pension laws.

By Stewart—For free coinage of both gold and silver and for the issuance of coin certificates to circulate as money.

By Morrill—To refund direct taxes included under the Act of 1861.

By Vance—To repeal the Civil Service law.

By Farwell—To perpetuate the National banking system.

By Call—Providing for the forfeiture of vessels owned by aliens fishing within three leagues of the coast of the United States, or within any bays or headlands of the United States.

By Morgan—Referring the La Albra claim to the Court of Claims for final adjudication.

By Mitchell—Extending the Mexican Pardon Act to all who served 30 days or more in any war since 1845.

By Dolph—Providing that the States of Oregon, Washington and Montana shall constitute the Tenth Judicial Circuit, with a new Circuit Judge; to repeal the pre-emption and timber-culture laws; appropriating $5,000,000 to enable the Secretary of War to provide necessary sites for the fortification of points where such sites have not been purchased or acquired.

By Mitchell—Appropriating $2,000,000 for the construction of a boat railway at the Dalles and Celilo Falls, and at Three and Ten-Mile Rapids on Columbia River, Oregon.

A number of bills relating to pensions were introduced.

Senator Cullom introduced a bill for the disposal of all public lands of the United States in California, Oregon, Colorado, Nevada, Washington, Montana, North and South Dakota, and in States that may be formed out of the Territories of Arizona, New Mexico, Utah, Idaho, Wyoming and Alaska. It provides that those lands shall be ceded to the States and eventual States in which the lands are on condition that the States shall convey not more than 30 acres susceptible to remunerative irrigation to any one settler. If the State shall elect to sell the lands the proceeds shall be used for the irrigation of such lands as may be made remuneratively productive. If the land is given to settlers it is to be taxed and the proceeds applied to irrigation purposes.

Davis introduced a bill for the admission of Idaho as a State.

The Senate then proceeded with Executive business, and soon adjourned.

The Same Old Wind-Goose Chase.

Special to the JOURNAL.

GILROY, Dec. 4.—An old sailor, Pete Jennings, claims to have been a passenger many years since with an old pirate who, on his deathbed, divulged the secret of the hiding place of a quarter of a million of treasure in Spanish doubloons, the place being Wall Island, in the Pacific ocean, three degrees south of the equator, on the South American coast. A company was organized during the late war to find the treasure, but failed to start on account of Government interference. Jennings has now succeeded in interesting capitalists in the treasure, and, believing his story, they, with him, yesterday started for San Francisco to make the necessary arrangements for the recovery of the treasure.

Farmers' and Laborers' Union.

Special to the JOURNAL.

St. Louis, Dec. 4.—The Farmers' and Laborers' Union resumed its session this morning, but in the absence of reports from committees most of the time was taken up in speech-making. A joint committee of the Union and the Northern Alliance was appointed yesterday. After a long conference last night it failed to agree upon a plan of consolidation. This morning a new committee was appointed.

Both Game.

Special to the JOURNAL.

BUTLER, Mo., Dec. 4.—United States Marshal Willis, who had a warrant for the arrest of Pierce Morgan, a moonshiner, late last night met him on the street. Morgan fired his revolver, but the bullet missed its mark. Both men then fired simultaneously. Willis was shot through the heart and died instantly. Morgan was shot in the stomach, and died this morning.

Guilty as Charged.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 4.—In the United States District Court, before Judge Rosa, this afternoon, the jury in the case of ex-Chief of Police Thomas J. Cuddy, on trial for embezzlement, returned a verdict of guilty.

SUICIDE AT SACRAMENTO.

MISS HATTIE DONAHUE JUMPS TO DEATH FROM THE YOLO BRIDGE.

Disappointment in a Love Affair With a Reno Man the Supposed Cause.

Telegraphic news was received here last night of the suicide of Miss Hattie Donahue, by drowning in the Sacramento river last evening, she having jumped from the Yolo bridge.

Miss Donahue formerly worked in the Western Union office here, and of late has been an operator in the Sacramento office. She was an exceedingly pleasant young lady. She left no word of the cause of her rash act, but her friends here have reason to believe that disappointment in a love affair caused her to end her life.

Later particulars are as follows:

Special to the JOURNAL.

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 4.—Miss Hattie B. Donahue, a handsome young woman, aged 22, who has been employed for a year past as an operator in the office of the Western Union Telegraph Company, committed suicide at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon by jumping into the Sacramento river from the high Yolo bridge.

Miss Donahue was an expert operator, who has held important positions in San Francisco, Virginia, and Reno, Nev.

She left the telegraph office shortly after 5 o'clock, employing a messenger boy to escort her to the bridge, as she did not know its location.

She was apparently in good spirits, and bid the other employees a pleasant "Good night" as she was leaving.

Arriving at the center of the bridge she gave the messenger boy two letters to mail and a note to be delivered to Mrs. Swift, with whom she resided.

It is evident that she jumped into the water as soon as the boy was out of sight.

The note was as follows:

"Dear Mrs. Swift—You know my life has not been an enviable one for some months past. I think I have chosen the easiest way to end my troubles. Many thanks to you for your past kindness. You have been a good friend to me. Yours, with love, HATTIE."

Parties on the Yolo side of the river heard a splash in the water and concluded some one had jumped or fallen in the river. They attempted to secure a boat but none could be had.

A couple of hours later the body was found two blocks below where Miss Donahue had plunged in.

No one about the telegraph office has any idea what the young lady's troubles were, but Mrs. Swift says she knows all about them, though she refuses to tell. She says the girl's life is spotless.

A Wealthy Wife Beater.

Special to the JOURNAL.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 4.—Lewis W. Shallcross, one of the members of the great iron firm of Morris Tarkenton & Co., and a millionaire resident of Frankford, beat his wife almost to death on Tuesday night and was today committed to Kirkbride's Insane Asylum. The assault was committed while he was on a drunken spree. Mrs. Shallcross is very ill from the frightful beating and kicking which she received, but it is hoped that she may recover. Shallcross is thirty-eight years old and his wife thirty.

Wool Growers.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The National Wool-Growers' Convention today appointed a committee to prepare an address to the wool-growers of the United States.

President Dolano, in his annual address, says: "Influenced by the Act of 1883, wool-growing languishes throughout the United States, and without relief must soon perish. The difference in the value of the Texas wool clips of 1883 and 1887 was $4,211,500. Under the influence of the Act of 1883 our annual clip has been reduced 35,000,000 pounds."

250 Beautiful Lots For Sale!

A RARE CHANCE FOR AN INVESTMENT AND A HOME.

THE MOST LOVELY PORTION OF RENO.

Facing the Truckee—The Aristocratic Avenue—Riverside Driveway—Splendid Sewerage—Healthy Location and Safe From Fire.

The proprietor is now ready to receive proposals for lots in Powning's Addition. The map gives a good idea of the tract, which is situated between the Central Pacific Railroad and the Truckee River, and commences on the west at a point three blocks distant from Virginia Street, making it the most central and convenient of any portion of the rapidly growing town of Reno. Unlike any other part of the town this Addition faces the beautiful Truckee River and Riverside Avenue is certain to become the fashionable driveway of the country. The streets are 80 feet wide, while Riverside and Keystone Avenues are intended to be 100 feet in width. All alleys are 20 feet wide. The soil is a rich gravelly loam, and susceptible of the highest state of cultivation. Being situated as it is it is more safe from fire than any other section. The regular lots are 50x140 feet. The sewerage is perfect.

Before Buying Elsewhere Parties will do Well to Look at These Lots.

Reno's geographical position is excellent. It is on the line of the Central Pacific Railroad, only 154 miles from Sacramento, and 244 miles from San Francisco. It is the terminus of the Virginia and Truckee Railroad running south, and of the Nevada and California Railroad running north. It has two Flouring Mills, Planing Mills, three Nurseries, a Soap Factory, Reduction Works, and other industries. A great Woolen Mill and a Sash, Door, Blind and Box Factory, are about to be established.

Reno has the Bank of Nevada with $300,000 capital, and the First National Bank with $200,000 capital. It has two fine papers in the DAILY and WEEKLY NEVADA STATE JOURNAL and the Daily and Weekly Gazette.

Reno is the natural home of the Alfalfa, and therefore the great cattle headquarters of the State. Here are fed the prime beef for the California market. Reno potatoes are the best in the world, and she also excels in Strawberries and the small fruits. Reno Wheat took the first prize at the great New Orleans Exposition.

The State Fair is always held at Reno.
